The Old Idaho State Penitentiary

The Old Idaho State Penitentiary in Boise is one of the most infamous haunted places in Idaho. Built in 1872, the prison housed some of the state's most notorious criminals, including murderers, bank robbers, and outlaws. During its operation, the prison witnessed numerous violent deaths, including executions, riots, and suicides.

Today, the Old Idaho State Penitentiary is a museum and a popular tourist destination. However, many visitors report experiencing strange and unexplained phenomena within the prison's walls. Some claim to have seen ghostly apparitions of former inmates, heard disembodied voices, or felt cold spots in certain areas. Others report feeling a sense of dread or unease when exploring the prison's dark and secluded cells.

Lake Coeur d'Alene

Lake Coeur d'Alene, located in the northern part of Idaho, is known for its scenic beauty and recreational opportunities. However, the lake also has a mysterious side, with numerous reports of UFO sightings and unexplained phenomena.

One of the most well-known UFO sightings occurred in 1960, when a group of fishermen claimed to have witnessed a large, cigar-shaped object hovering over the lake. The fishermen described the object as being metallic and glowing, and they claimed that it moved in an erratic manner before disappearing into the clouds.

In addition to UFO sightings, Lake Coeur d'Alene is also known for its unexplained orbs. These orbs are often seen floating above the lake's surface, and they have been captured in numerous photographs and videos. Some believe that these orbs are a form of intelligent life, while others believe that they are simply a natural phenomenon.

The Campbell House

The Campbell House in Boise is a historic home that is believed to be haunted by the ghosts of its former occupants. The house was built in 1885 by William Campbell, a wealthy businessman. In 1892, Campbell's wife, Anna, died suddenly in the house under mysterious circumstances.

Since Anna's death, there have been numerous reports of paranormal activity in the Campbell House. Many people claim to have seen Anna's ghost wandering the house's halls, and some have even reported hearing her crying or moaning. Others have reported seeing strange lights, hearing disembodied voices, or feeling cold spots in certain areas of the house.

The Monte Cristo Mine

The Monte Cristo Mine, located in the Sawtooth Mountains of central Idaho, is an abandoned mine that is steeped in mystery and legend. The mine was first discovered in the late 1800s, and it quickly became one of the most productive silver mines in the United States.

However, the Monte Cristo Mine also has a dark history. In 1895, a massive cave-in killed 24 miners, and many of their bodies were never recovered.

Since then, there have been numerous reports of strange and unexplained phenomena in and around the mine.

Some people claim to have seen the ghosts of the deceased miners wandering the mine's tunnels, and others have reported hearing disembodied voices or feeling a sense of dread when exploring the mine's abandoned buildings. There are also stories of strange lights, unexplained noises, and other paranormal activity in the area surrounding the mine.

The Shoshone Ice Caves

The Shoshone Ice Caves, located in the Sawtooth Mountains of central Idaho, are a natural wonder that is also known for its mysterious and unexplained phenomena. The caves are formed by a series of interconnected lava tubes that were carved out by volcanic activity millions of years ago.

The Shoshone Ice Caves are home to a variety of ice formations, including stalactites, stalagmites, and ice crystals. The caves also contain a number of ancient petroglyphs and pictographs, which were created by Native Americans hundreds of years ago.

In addition to their natural beauty, the Shoshone Ice Caves are also known for their strange and unexplained phenomena. Many people report feeling a sense of unease or dread when exploring the caves, and some have even claimed to have seen strange lights or heard disembodied voices.

Whether you believe in ghosts and paranormal phenomena or not, there is no denying that Idaho is home to a number of strange and mysterious places. From the Old Idaho State Penitentiary to the Shoshone Ice Caves, the Gem State is a treasure trove of haunted history and unexplained phenomena.

So, if you're looking for a taste of the supernatural, be sure to add Idaho to your travel list. Just be sure to keep an open mind, and don't be surprised if you experience something strange and unexplained along the way.
